Notes: The expenditure figure excludes the spending of nil nights transit visitors and of overseas residents departing directly from the Channel Islands

1999 was the first year in which IPS interviewing has been undertaken on routes to and from the Irish Republic. It was therefore the first year for which a genuine national/ regional spread of Irish Visitors to the UK has been obtained. In all previous years the national/regional spread of Irish visitors to the UK was estimated to be the same as for all other overseas visitors. National/regional estimates were therefore uplifted to include this estimate for visitors from the Irish Republic.

As a consequence of this important change in 1999 it is misleading to compare national/regional results for 1999 and later years with those for earlier years.
